Rhythmanalysis

By Henri Lefebvre

I. Rhythms at a Look

First a sense a room, then I draw an architectural account and then I do rhythmanalysis around the logic.

II. An Example

First I walk to the wash, and sense ecological water, and then I go to the park and play some tennis, and then I follow the seasons and weather and in fact sweat in summer and this then is one example of rhythmanalysis

III. Perfecting Rhythmanalysis

Trust the sense of the matter – I sense that the room, requires a spiritual sense of in fact drinking water, ecological rhythmanalysis is about that sense-perception.
